The winner of the tallest category last year went to a fantastic specimen grown in Pembroke Avenue who clinched the HRA £25 cash prize

The competition is designed to help brighten up Hersham, and that's why some of the prize categories focus on flowers which you can see from the street. Last year West Grove won the prize for the street with the most number of visible sunflowers

To encourage those who don't think of themselves as green-fingered, there is also a £25 Squires voucher prize that growers of short sunflowers can win; the prize for the nearest to a randomly selected height decided on the day before judging. Last year this prize went to a plant along Molesey Road which was just 1.2m tall.
